LAWRENCE C. CORBAN, COAST ATTORNEY IS CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE

Circuit Court—Comes From Legal and Judicial Family—Resident of Biloxi and is 38 Years Old—Learned and Active.

Lawrence C. Corban, prominent Biloxi Attorney, has authorized The Echo to carry his formal announcement as a candidate for Circuit Judge of this judicial district, subject to the Democratic primaries to be held in August.

Mr. Corban is a native Mississippian, having been born and reared at Fayette, in Jefferson county. After completing his education in the public schools, he attended Millsaps College at Jackson, and then went to the University of Mississippi, where he graduated in both the literary and law schools in 1924, securing his law degrees with distinction.

For a year he worked in the law office of his brother at Fayette, and then moved to the Coast where he has practiced continuously since 1925. In his legal work he is associated with Leslie B. Grant, under the firm name of Corban & Grant, at Biloxi.

Immediately on his location at Biloxi, Mr. Corban showed his interest in civic affairs, and has had a sustained interest in helping hand for every movement for the good of this section, and in some instances has been called on to lead, having served as president of the Chamber of Commerce at Biloxi, and president of the Kiwanis Club. He has also been active in church and fraternal affairs. He is a member of the Biloxi, the Harrison county, the Mississippi, and the American Bar Associations, and has served a vice-president of the Harrison County Bar Association.

He married Miss Gene Sullivan, daughter of Dr. J. M. Sullivan of the chemistry department at Millsaps College and they have three children, two of whom are now attending the public schools.

He comes from a legal and judicial family, being the son of Judge R. L. Corban, who served as Circuit Judge of the Sixth District of the State for fifteen years, and the brother of R. L. Corban, Jr., attorney of Fayette, Mississippi, former member of the State Legislature.

In discussing his candidacy, Mr. Corban stated that he felt that he could be of service to the people, if elected to this important office at this time, and that he had been encouraged by a number of the members of the Bar, and by friends, in making his announcement. He is 38 years old and has been practicing law for 14 years, and states that if elected he will endeavor in every way possible to uphold and maintain the dignity and respect which the court deserves, and will give careful, sympathetic, and studious attention to every cause that comes before him.

He has the reputation of being of even temper, studious and careful in his action, and industrious and conscientious in the discharge of every duty which he assumes. He enjoys the highest regard as to integrity of character and legal ability.

Mr. Corban states that he will endeavor to see personally as many citizens as possible before the election and will appreciate the favorable consideration of every voter.

Monthly District Meeting at Manieri's Cafe Friday Evening, 22—W. W. Wallace, Field Executive, Special Guest.

Regular monthly meeting of District Scout Masters and Executives of the Bay St. Louis-Pass Christian District was held at Manieri's Cafe on Friday night of last week, when supper was served.

The Rev. A. J. Gmelch, executive chairman of this district, presided, and the special guest of honor was W. W. Wallace, field executive, with headquarters and office at New Orleans.

Other officers present were Henry Osioinach, finance chairman; Frank Wittman, of Pass Christian, chairman of honor committee, and L. S. Elliott, secretary.

In addition to the above included in the list were Rev. Father Hayes, Fred Fayard, Arthur Seafide, Alden Mauffray, Ed. I. Jones, Norton Haas, Father J. C. McKenna, Henry Osioinach, Adlai Lang, W. W. Wallace, of New Orleans headquarters.

The supper and meeting were both enjoyable and interesting. Plans were discussed for the scout masters' training school, which is an annual affair.

It was announced Camp Salmon, near Slidell, La., would open for reception of scouts June 20th, and this announcement provoked considerable interest and manifested more than ordinary anticipation. Camp Salmon is always an object for the scouts to look forward to for weeks ahead. It is their one big annual outing.

Another event in the offing is the Court of Honor, to be held at Pass Christian, Wednesday, May 18. This ceremonial is looked forward to with much eagerness and the honors conferred are of the most enviable recognition.

"Dad" Manieri was complimented on the excellence of the supper served. The regular monthly meeting of this kind for the district will be held on the last Friday of every month, hence next meeting will occur May 27.

These district meetings comprise all executives within the territory of Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis and is one of the liveliest and best districts of scout work in the state. There is much enthusiasm and interest displayed at all times.

BAY CITY ABOUNDS WITH PROFUSION OF EASTER LILIES

Echo Garden Reporter Tells Of Various Show Gardens Round About.

The Easter lilies still reign supreme, with an unusually long blooming period.

Some very lovely ones may be seen, combined with larkspur, in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tudury, on Main street. The border on either side of the walks at the Drake home on Ulman avenue, is looking very pretty, with these snow white blooms, also.

Mrs. Octave Fayard's garden on Main street, is very bright with lilies, roses, larkspur and petunias. A border of handsome lemon lilies may be seen along the side garden of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Keen in Waveland. Nearby, another garden boasts of a double border of these same stunning flowers.

The garden of Mr. and Mrs. Pete E. Porter on Ulman avenue is most gay and festive looking, at present. Behind a low ligustrum hedge, this garden makes a charming setting for the white Colonial cottage, which it surrounds.

As one steps into the garden, a young oak shades the path. And just around the corner one finds a pretty trellis draped with wood-vine or red honey suckle. To one side, two fine young arbovitae mark the corners of a bed of Easter lilies, larkspur, calla lilies and nasturtiums.

A triangular bed of pink radiance roses, pansies, violets, and double nasturtiums guarded at each corner with small arbovitae, break the pathway to the house.

To one side a pecan tree is surrounded with a circular bed of pink verbena. Behind, a confederate Jassamine twines itself about a trellis.

The planting around the base of the house, which sits close to the ground, consists of arbovitae, larkspur, purple petunias, lilies, and roses.

On the west side, of the house there is a long bed of bright yellow coreopsis. Two beautifully rounded "oak trees" grace the side garden with beds of lilies, and larkspur, beneath.

Under their shade is a diamond shaped pool, stocked with rare gold fish, that dart in and out among the water hyacinths. Small pots of cactus are placed at each angle of this pool. A fountain, in the center, plays on the water beneath. Beyond another bed of roses, stock, and calendulas are placed.

Pink oleanders, cane, and bananas trees combine to make a background for the rear border of the garden. This is another garden beautiful, of which the Bay may be proud.

HANCOCK COUNTY HAS WPA FOREST AND PARK PROJECT

Edmund J. Giering, County Project Supervisor, Has Force of Men Making Survey

Recently inaugurated in Hancock county is the WPA Forest and Park Survey Project, sponsored by the Mississippi Forestry Commission. The purpose of the project is to aid in the perpetuation and conservation of the forests and woodlands of Mississippi, according to Edmund J. Giering, county project supervisor, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

At the present time a force of men under Mr. Giering supervisor, are making a survey of the Pine Canker disease in Hancock county.

"One of the objectives of the project is to list all land in Hancock county which have not been burned over in the last five or more years," says Mr. Giering. It is requested that all farmers or landowners who have such lands either write or get in touch with the Project Supervisor as soon as possible.

Boston Shoe Store Building in New Garb Of Spring Painting.

Keeping abreast with the times and ever imbued with that spirit of progressiveness and community pride as well as business upward and onward trend, Mr. August Schiro, pioneer shoe store proprietor in Bay St. Louis, has had the exterior of his building, corner Main and Second streets, painted in a bright glow of tan and the sign painter topped it off successfully with a new sign atop the corner front of the building. It not only evidences well for the community when its business men improve their premises but for the individual as well. Mr. Schiro, proprietor of the Boston Shoe Store, long in business, has always set the pace. It is acknowledged that his show windows are among the number carrying the best display.

L. J. FOLSE TALKS TO ROTARY

Executive Director of Mississippi Planning Commission Delivers Stirring and Impressive Appeal.

Hon. L. J. Folse, executive director of the Mississippi Planning Commission, made a stirring and impressive appeal to Rotarians here Wednesday to rally to the support of Governor White's program to balance "Industry with Agriculture."

He was introduced as a leading factor in the securing of rural electrification for Hancock county. In the limited time allotted he touched upon the outstanding accomplishments of the commission. He stated that a great flood control project was advocated for the Mississippi Delta, and was now under way. In connection with this work, he said, soil erosion was given careful attention as it has been learned that this is very essential in maintaining flood control measures. Extensive surveys were made, he continued, covering the water supply of the state, which was found to be unequalled in the nation. The great possibilities of the state from a recreational standpoint was stressed.

A report was presented showing conclusively that Mississippi was the logical location for the proposed research laboratory to be established by the department of agriculture. He expressed the opinion that next to pine timber as a natural resource for Mississippi would be found in the mineral deposits. He brought out that Mississippi boasted of a rural electrification program that was unsurpassed throughout the entire nation.

In discussing "evils" facing Mississippi, he mentioned the great "barrier" lifted over the state by unfair and discriminatory freight rates. This matter, he cried, should be adjusted and must be adjusted. He stated that compensation of the cost of compensation insurance in this state and neighboring states. He declared, that this was caused by citizens evading their responsibility toward government. In stressing this point he mentioned the widespread practice of avoiding jury service. He closed with a plea for co-operation, with assurance that a greater Mississippi was at hand.

MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST RIVIERA PARKWAY REPORTED ASSURED

Plans For Proposed Project Comes to Definite Head at Series of Conferences at Washington Between Gov. White and Federal Authorities.

A double highway with accompanying landscape for parkway strip from Henderson Point, on the Bay of St. Louis, to Biloxi, is contemplated and funds for such project are seemingly assured, thanks to the indefatigable and personal efforts of Gov. Hugh White, returned from Washington.

The Coast line of the Mississippi Sound from the Bay of St. Louis to Biloxi is to be transformed into a parkway, patterned along the European Riviera, says a press special from Jackson.

Plans for the proposed project, on which Governor Hugh L. White has been working for several months, came to a definite head at a series of conferences between state and federal officials in Washington. Roland B. Wall, acting works progress administrator for Mississippi asserted on his return to Jackson Monday from Washington. E. D. Kenna, state highway director, asserted this afternoon that under the proposal the state highway department would construct another roadway, leaving a neutral ground between the present highway that skirts the seavall.

MISSISSIPPI STATE HOLDING SERIES OF EDUCATIONAL MEETS

State Supt. of Education Vandiver Working For Closer Co-Ordination Of Interests.

A series of educational conferences are being held in the State, beginning April 25, and will continue from day to day at different places until May 5. Conferences for this week were held at Cleveland, University of Mississippi, Tupelo, Starkville on Thursday.

Beginning next Monday the following schedule will prevail: Monday, May 2—Brookhaven, at Brookhaven High School. Tuesday, May 3—Hattiesburg, at State Teachers College.

Wednesday, May 4—Meridian, Meridian High School. Thursday, May 5—Jackson, Millsaps College.

These conferences are sponsored each year by the State Department of Education for the purpose of discussing plans for financing the schools for next year and for the purpose of stimulating interest in better instruction. A representative from each division of the State Department of Education will be present at each of these conferences to discuss the various problems relating to his particular field of work for next year's program.

State Superintendent of Education J. S. Vandiver says every person who is interested in our great school program is invited to attend these conferences, and he is especially urging a full attendance of county superintendents of education, separate and consolidated school superintendents, vocational board members, members of boards of supervisors, members of college faculties, bus drivers, and college students taking education. In order for our school program to function in the most efficient manner, it is necessary for the citizenry, generally, to be well informed along educational lines.

These conferences should not only prove helpful to those who are directly interested in the administration and supervision of the schools, but should be a real source of information to all who attend. For this reason, the people are urged to take advantage of at least one of these conferences.

Life of Louisiana Composer Reviewed By Orleans Musician.

An enthusiastic audience attended the musical review given by Mrs. Marie Theard in the convent music room, Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of "The Book of the Hour Club."

Mrs. Theard reviewed the life of Louis Moreau Gottschalk, Louisiana musician of note.

In addition, Mrs. Theard played several of Mr. Gottschalk's selections on the piano. She was assisted by Mrs. Charles Testart, who sang some delightful old songs in French.

The program expressed the charm and atmosphere of old New Orleans. Next month, Mrs. Walter Price of Pass Christian, will give the review. Announcement of the book to be reviewed will be made later.

Anyone having a typewriter they could loan the library for two weeks are asked to get in touch with Miss Louise Crawford, W. P. A. librarian.

FEDERAL PROJECT OF WORTH

Mrs. Kinta Smith, County Supervisor Housekeeping Project, Active In Cause.

An all-day meeting and open house will be held at local WPA headquarters, (local K. of C. Hall) in Main street, Friday of this week, and Mrs. Kinta Smith, county supervisor housekeeping project, will be host with her assistants for the day, and to which the public is invited.

This WPA project is one of wide and varied use and comes into the very hopes for whom the project was originated, planned and put into execution. Not only housekeeping projects are discussed and better work planned and taught by actual demonstration, but besides care is given to the needy as well.

Mrs. Smith has been quite active in her work over the county and has established such service to an extent that it now becomes well indispensable and not only fills a long-felt want but comes to the rescue of many in distress, thanks to the federal government.

When the new baby comes into the family, when babies and other children are lacking proper care because of illness or adults of the family are away seeking a livelihood, and when neighbors fail or not available to give a lending hand, it is in this and other instances the housekeeping project comes to the rescue and serves in good stead.

The WPA has taken into account such emergencies and is ready to help families when the domestic machinery has been slowed up by sickness. The housekeeping aid project furnishes free home assistance in housework, and also cares for children when the wife and mother is temporarily incapacitated.

This splendid plan, which comes under the division of professional projects employs both white and colored women who are qualified by native intelligence and by their own experience to follow simple instruction in housekeeping work.

Floods of inquiries have come from stricken families from time to time asking what could be done for families stricken by illness, and there has been so little one could tell them, where there is no money to pay for assistance.

There has been, of course, the splendid work done by the visiting nurse societies, but that usually requires a minimum fee. And sometimes, when the bread-winner has been ill or out of work, there hasn't even been that meager required pitance.

But now here is a double benefit. It not only gives assistance to a stricken family, but pays a small wage to the workers who lend a hand, who, themselves, are in about the same circumstances. Supplies and equipment must be provided by donations. And few will balk at rendering this aid. The objective of

Plans for the ceremonies marking the energizing of the first section of the Hancock Electric Power Association, farm power project are rapidly being completed. announces Superintendent Carl Vickers in a letter to prospective members. Present plans call for an all-day celebration, to be held in Picayune. The complete text of the letter follows, signed by Carl Vickers, project superintendent:

"The great day is almost here. We have stood together for a long time, and now all of the obstacles have been overcome. The first section of our project will be energized about May 15, or sooner if possible. I believe that this will be a day worth celebrating, and the directors will notify you of the exact date of the celebration. You will receive a post card a few days in advance of the event, in order that you will have time to get ready to come. Since the main switch and power supply is located in Picayune, it is felt at this time that the energizing ceremonies will be held there.

We want to make this the biggest turnout this region has ever seen. There will be several speakers, including state and county officials, also the men and women who have worked so hard in getting this line built. A number of electric appliance dealers will have plenty of gadgets to show the folks, electric stoves, water heaters, refrigerators, radios and all kinds of small appliances. All of these things will be shown and demonstrated. The turning on of this power will mark a new day for this section, and the celebration is the culmination of many months of hard work done by many in putting this project over. This is your line. As you enjoy the benefits and services of electricity over the months and years, you can well be proud of your part in building it. Remember the celebration will be a family affair. Bring your lunch and come early, and above all bring the children."

Chicken Spaghetti Supper Nets Handsome Sum For S. S. C. Band

"Success crowned the efforts of the ladies of the Mothers' Club, St. Stanislaus College, who, under auspices of the club, gave a benefit chicken-spaghetti supper Monday evening.

The sum of $160.00 was last reported, and this handsome amount was appropriated to the fund to help defray expenses of S. S. C. Boys' Band to Jackson for State-wide contest. In addition to the financial side the affair was noted for its social success as well, many ladies and gentlemen attending.

Several selections were discoursed by members of the Band, while the supper was in course, and the affair easily proved one of delightful recollection.

Ladies in charge of the supper were Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, chair-lady; Mrs. John W. Bryan, Mrs. Edouard C. Carrere, Mrs. H. C. Glover, Mrs. Hugh P. Burbank, Mrs. Claud Monti, Mrs. Francis J. Bopp, Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, Mrs. J. J. Grevemberg, Miss May Steib and Mrs. Carmelite Saudier who had directed the cooking of the delightful and toothsome "confection."

Where Flowers Revel In Abundance And Endless Variety.

Mrs. Octave Fayard, whose premises in Main street, are always attractive and an object for home beautification, has perhaps the garden that carries the most of flowering plants the entire year round. There is variety, color and collection. Just now sweet pea, the most prolific we have seen hereabouts, are in profusion. Then there are large dahlias, size of the proverbial soup plate, wide opening in opulent-like colors; poppy and lilies, roses of different colors and size, smaller flowers of multi shade. Mrs. Fayard has grown flowers all of her adult life. Her success is due to application and diligence and further to the fact she lives with and loves her flowers, as has been said.

This project is that women may be trained while working so eventually they will be absorbed by private industry.

Visit Mrs. Smith's housekeeping project at headquarters tomorrow. The office in K. C. Hall will be open to the public all day.

NEW GOAL FOR CITIES.

POPULAR experts predict that the United States will have a balanced birth and death rate by 1960, and the population of the country will become stabilized at approximately 150,000,000 people.

This means, according to experts, that the phenomenal growth of cities, as a general rule, is a thing of the past. Although cities will continue to grow, the rate will be much lower and the emphasis is toward decentralization, a trend that is now noticeable in our largest cities.

The Sea Coast Echo does not guarantee that this prediction is accurate. However, there are foundations for the opinion. If this be true, it behooves smaller municipalities to plan for the future on a basis of quality rather than quantity. By seeking to create "the best city" rather than the "largest" some municipality is going to make a record for itself in the next few decades.

We have often been amused by the ridiculous claims advanced by municipalities of the United States. Practically all of the town boosters lie delightfully about climate and population. Every city claims the same attractions. Occasionally, one runs across a municipality with an eye to beauty and the hope to create and maintain a good place for family life. It is a goal worth considering.

SISTER CLOTILDE du VERNAY.

AFTER serving her God and Church unflinchingly for a period of seventy-four years, Sister Clotilde died at Saint Joseph Academy, Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, Tuesday morning at 4:45 o'clock, death coming quietly, the grand old nun passing off into an undisturbed slumber.

Sister Clotilde was born in New Orleans, in 1845, her home being in the pleasant environment of the Creole Quarter. At an early age she entered the Novitiate of the Sisters of Saint Joseph and four years later took her final vows. She was then transferred to Saint Joseph Convent, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, where she faithfully served during sixty-nine years her Sisters, the students of the Academy, the sick and poor of the parish, consoling the afflicted and unfortunate—all who came in contact with her. Her peaceful death is fitting close of a well-spent life.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at nine o'clock in the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf. Interment in St. Mary Cemetery. REQUIESCAT IN PACE!

LAXATIVES CAN BE DANGEROUS.

URGING that men, women and children "respect their intestines" and not use laxatives "on the slightest provocation," Prof. Reginald Fitz of the Boston University School of Medicine, calls attention to the large number of unnecessary deaths from appendicitis despite the fact that it is an easily recognized disease.

Dr. Fitz is the son of the Boston physician, who in 1886, recognized appendicitis as a distinct medical entity. He believes that the appendicitis toll today is too high because of death caused by the unwise use of laxatives. People, for some reason, when they feel a pain in their intestines, grab a laxative with the idea that this is a cure-all.

While a pure laxative usually does no harm, it may cause serious injury in the case of appendicitis. It is necessary, therefore, for people to recognize that before resorting to a laxative they should consult a physician to determine whether they have appendicitis or not.

JACKIE COOGAN SUES HIS MOTHER.

JACKIE COOGAN, the 'Kid' of the motion pictures, is suing his mother and stepfather for an accounting, charging that he has been deprived of his earnings of more than four million dollars and that he is now "broke."

We certainly know very little of the facts in this controversy. As this article is written, the Court has rendered no opinion. Involved is the legal provision which declares that earnings of a minor child become the property of the parents. Moreover, the mother asserts that her boy was unfit to be trusted with large sums of money, which, in her opinion, would prove injurious to his character.

If young Coogan earned several million dollars as a child screen star and is now without funds because his earnings have been retained by his parents, individually or collectively, the young man has a right to kick. Having become of age, it is nothing but right and proper that he should now enjoy some of the wealth that he earned.

A TEST BEFORE MARRIAGE.

THE State of New York has recently adopted a law which requires applicants for a marriage license to take a serological blood test for syphilis prior to securing such a license.

Similar laws, we understand, are in effect in New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Kentucky, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. It will be a good day for the United States when such a law exists in every commonwealth.

GOVERNOR WHITE'S TRIP TO WASHINGTON.

GOVERNOR Hugh L. White has returned to Jackson from a trip to Washington where he visited in the interest of procuring a goodly slice of federal funds for highway construction and kindred enterprise.

His stay in the Capital City was not without result. His conference with the various heads is reported to be satisfactory. He received the assurance that Mississippi would get its share of allotments and that the objective of highways would not be overlooked or suffer for want of finances.

Governor White, while a friend to all Mississippi, ever striving to serve its people to advantage, is not unmindful of the possibilities of the Mississippi Gulf Coast; of its undeveloped resources. He fully agrees with the plan to make this section one of the greatest resort centers in the country.

His visit to Washington brought the assurance that the coastal line of Mississippi will become as great a beauty spot and will vie with the European Riviera.

This development and fruition of a long-cherished plan is now at hand; the time has arrived and within comparative short time this section will be teeming with people and wealth from all sections.

Connected with his proposal to make home-steads tax-free, it is easy to foresee a great picture for the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

All praise to our great Governor, earnest in endeavor and a mighty lever for the development of the State and particularly this Coast section.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN FOR THIS SUMMER.

MISSISSIPPI will hold an election this summer for Congressman from the several districts of the State and also for various judgeships.

On the Coast district we are to vote for a chancellor, a judge for circuit court and for a congressman.

Judge W. A. White of the circuit bench sometime since gave notice of his intention to retire after the present term, which will end this year. Hence he will not be a candidate. There are at least three candidates, so far, who will seek to fill the vacancy on the bench.

Congressman Colmer, it is said, will have opposition.

This will make for an active campaign during the summer and there should be plenty "doing" in the form of campaign rallies to add to the life and spice of the "good old summer time."

Hancock county's board of supervisors have gone on record adopting a resolution endorsing Judge Russell's re-election, the same appearing on the official minutes for April.

Chancellor Russell has a fine record and given universal satisfaction. It was feared some time back that he would be appointed to a higher judicial sphere and the Coast was quite apprehensive they would lose this wise and able jurist. We could not well afford the loss.

RAILROADS BOOST MISSISSIPPI BUSINESS.

MISSISSIPPI benefited substantially from the expenditures of the railroads in 1937 for materials, supplies, fuel, new equipment and payrolls, it is revealed in a special study which has just been completed by the Bureau of Railway Economics of the Association of American Railroads.

Railway purchases in Mississippi last year totaled $5,729,284, the report shows. Of this sum, $5,728,669 was spent for materials, supplies and fuel, while $615 went for new equipment (not including that built in company shops). These purchases were made in 247 towns and cities located in 74 of the 82 counties of the State.

Wages paid to railway employees in Mississippi during 1937 amounted to $14,187,188.

The review discloses that, for the nation as a whole, the railroads last year paid $1,133,361,468 for the more than 70,000 different items which they use. Materials, supplies and fuel cost $966,383,000, and expenditures for all new equipment (except that constructed in railway shops) totaled $166,978,468. More than 12,000 towns and cities located in 2,633 of the 3,072 counties of the United States derived direct benefits from this large volume of railroad buying.

In 1937, the country's rail carriers also distributed $1,983,990,485 in wages to their employees, the report says.

HE LOST $175,000.

A NEWS story from Toledo, Ohio, says that the late Frank Collins, industrialist, was so opposed to the refunding policy of President Roosevelt that he refused to turn in $1,000,000 in gold-clause Liberty Bonds which were called in 1933.

Inasmuch as the bonds paid no interest after they were called, it is estimated that he lost $175,000.

One may admire the willingness of this man to take such a loss rather than acquiesce in the act of the government in calling the bonds. However, it seems to us, he carried "rugged individualism" a little bit too far.

DR. TOWNSEND'S PARDON.

THE pardon given Dr. Francis E. Townsend, 71-year-old founder of the Old Age Pension movement, prevents the necessity of his serving a thirty-day jail sentence for contempt of the House of Representatives.

The action of the President will meet with the approval of most Americans. While Dr. Townsend was undoubtedly wrong in declining to answer questions asked by congressmen, he probably followed the advice of friends and counsel. Moreover, his case has clarified the law involved. No useful purpose would be served by forcing him, at his age, to serve thirty days in jail.

GARDEN REPORTER NOTES BEAUTY OF MASS OF LILIES.

H. S. Renshaw Place And Other Places of Beauty—Max N. Kohler Show Place.

The Easter lilies are so numerous and so beautiful this spring, they far out shadow any other flower for the present.

Some of the showiest displays are found along North Beach, where the pathways of lilies make a perfect bridal setting with their beauty. Those especially handsome were noticed in the gardens of the Lester Alexanders, Mrs. M. W. Briggs, Mrs. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Renshaw, and the Max N. Kohlers.

The Kohler garden, noted for its year round beauty, is especially beautiful, just now. The front garden is hedged with exquisite Dorothy Perkins roses trailing across the fence.

The path beds of hundreds of gorgeous lily blooms, larkspur, choice roses and later blooming chrysanthemums.

On either side of the garden are found beds of larkspur, baby's breath, stock and calendulas.

A fine bed of double nasturtiums runs along one side.

Tall, pink double poppies border one side of the driveway, and hydrangeas and physgenia fill the opposite bed, with clumps of nerved vere beyond.

The house nestles in deep plantings of ferns, pitissporum, nandina, and hydrangeas.

A wisteria and rose cover the archway of the drive, which leads to the back garden.

An especially fine cotton wood forms an axis for the circular drive in the rear.

By the porch steps two iron columns, from the first bank of New Orleans, support a bell, one hundred and five years old, which belonged to "Smokey Mary," the first engine in Louisiana. A plaque beneath invites the guest, with the motto, "Here, you will find liberty and welcome," charming lines for any home or garden.

Tucked away beneath one corner of the house is an artistic little green house overrun with vines and ferns.

Oleanders, plants and rare camellias fill this first back garden. Here we also found a small circular pool, ringed with double pink poppies.

Further on, extensive grape arbor furnishes shade for many pots of handsome ferns that thrive in this cool spot.

In a corner an outdoor stone is handy for cooking crabs and shrimp. Red Riding Hood and the bad wolf hide beneath a huge ligustrum bush, now sweet with its many blossoms.

An ivy bed, to one side, makes a solid mass of fresh green leaves.

At this point, the garden slopes down in terraced effect, the terrace bordered on either side with sweet alyssum and larkspur.

At the base of the terrace one finds a large rectangular pool with delicate water lilies in bloom and gold fish darting back and forth beneath the fountain. Iris and ferns are found here also.

Garden benches make this an inviting spot to sit and admire the vista with its fig, plum, pear trees, and handsome rose cedars.

Beyond, under the pines, is a garden house with wrought iron table and chairs with plantings of the Spanish dagger and bottle brush bush. Sweet gum and camphor trees lend their shade nearby.

Here, Mr. Kohler's miniature camellia trail begins. Following the winding paths of stepping stones, hundreds of tiny camellia bushes are waiting for the day when they can send forth their bright colors to dazzle the beholder.

In a far corner of the garden a bower of wisteria forms a secluded nook where the owner often seeks the stone bench inside to rest and meditate.

Jessie decides to live her own life. John L. Hennessey, a role which gives Tracy a powerful characterization as a man who worked his way up from the docks to become a wealthy steamship owner, refuses to let her.

Jessie marries Hennessey. She learns to love him when Eddie attempts to blackmail them. His plan fails because Hennessey goes broke. This gives Jessie the chance to prove her love in a surprising and dramatic climax.

Never more beautifully gowned, Miss Crawford has twenty-eight costume changes, designed by Adrian as an advance fashion preview of feminine styles for 1938.

In prominent featured roles are Ralph Morgan, Mary Phillips, Oscar O'Shea, Elizabeth Risdon and Leo Gorcey.

A highlight of the new picture is Miss Crawford's singing of "Always and Always," a haunting melody of the torch-song type, which was especially written for the star by Edward Ward, with lyrics by Bob Wright and Chet Forrest.

LINEN SHOWER GIVEN FOR MISS CARRERE TO BE WEDDED IN JUNE.

No social affair has engrossed more interest and proved more enjoyable than the charming gesture by Mesdames John W. Bryan, Leo E. Kenney and H. P. Burbank, jointly, and their friends participating in the linen shower last Thursday afternoon in compliment to the June-bride-elect, Miss Louise Carrere.

This affair claiming much attention was given at the Answer Tea Room, of which Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois is proprietor-hostess, and how well she negotiated every detail in the most definite manner was best attested to by the success of the affair. The dining room and reception rooms were decorated with a profusion of Easter lilies grouped in tasteful effect and in abundance about the place, with white and green as contrasting colors. In the dining room the main table was decorated similarly, in keeping with the decoration motif, and augmented the vast number of lilies used.

At 1:30 the guests had assembled and soon bridge proved a most fascinating diversion until later in the afternoon when the activities for the shower were soon at the very height and proved another high spot of the evening of various interests.

Many and lovely were the gifts, the trio of hosts presenting the honor with a bed spread of ecru silk hand embroidered, a gift of unusualness and one attracting considerable admiration. However, all gifts were of value and beauty and soon amounted to a number high in pile. Some seventy-five guests were present to greet Miss Carrere and the three sisters who gave the affair, one of the several already and of the number yet to be given, to say nothing of the number to be given in New Orleans where Miss Carrere and Mr. W. A. Reiss, Jr. are to be married in June.

Guests playing cards included. Miss Louise Carrere, Mrs. Edouard C. Carrere, Mrs. John A. Green Jr., of Houston, Texas; Miss Margaret Green, Mrs. George E. Ferchaut, Mrs. Milton A. Phillips, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mrs. J. J. Grevemberg, Mrs. H. C. Glover, Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, Mrs. A. P. Smith, Mrs. J. Baldwin Allen, Mrs. Leo W. Seal, Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, Mrs. Theodore T. Robin, Mrs. A. B. Vassalli, Mrs. Cooney Weston, Mrs. Francis J. Bopp, Mrs. George E. Pitcher, Miss Marie E. Bertrand, Miss Hazel Abbley, Mrs. J. C. Buckley, Mrs. Roger M. Boh, Mrs. Lucien M. Gex, Mrs. George S. Horton, Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux, Mrs. J. Roland Weston, Miss Elsie Spurl.

Coming later in the afternoon for tea the guests included: Mrs. E. J. Gex, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Miss Clara Kergosien, Mrs. Wallace Catchings, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mrs. W. J. Curry, Mrs. Joseph R. Scharf, Mrs. Emmet L. Betzer, Miss May Osborn, Mrs. A. T. Terry, Mrs. Carl Marshall, Mrs. (Dr.) C. L. Horton, Mrs. R. N. Blaize, Mrs. L. Smith, Mrs. Jas. A. Evans, Mrs. J. Weston, Mrs. R. de Montluzin, Mrs. P. V. Lacoste, Mrs. H. S. Renshaw, Mrs. Owen Crawford, Miss Louise Crawford, Misses Mauffray, Mrs. Max N. Kohler, Mrs. Claud Kohler, Mrs. A. Rauxet, Miss Vicky Gex, Miss Barbara Haywood, Miss Beth Barksdale, Miss Betty Gause, Miss Jane Floyd, Miss Kathleen Renshaw, Miss Alice Vivian Evans, Miss Vivian Prague, Miss Lucy Weston, Mrs. H. Breath, Jr., Mrs. C. J. Chadwick, and others.

At one end of the lovely appointed table Mrs. A. Clavierie poured coffee while on the other end Mrs. E. C. Carrere poured tea, silver serving sets used at each end.

The serving girls, in dainty spring frocks, were Misses Alice Vivian Evans, Barbara Haywood, Betty Gause, Beth Barksdale, Jane Floyd, Kathleen Renshaw, Lucy Weston, Vivian Prague.

Two dainty Misses were basket carriers, accompanying the collection of linen and other like gifts, Irma Louise Kenney and Virgile Dick.

Mrs. A. Clavierie, Mrs. Donald Jewett, Mrs. John Dugan and Mrs. C. J. Chadwick came out from New Orleans last Thursday on the occasion of the linen shower given in compliment to Miss Louise Carrere by Mesdames Bryan, Kenney and Burbank, at the Answer Tea Room.

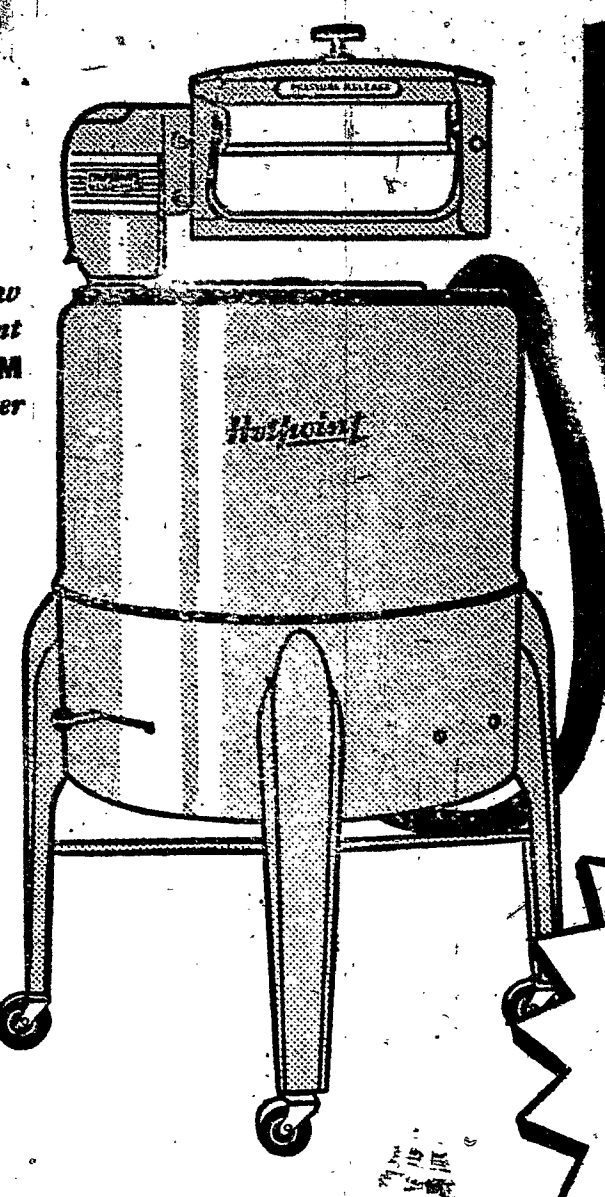

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fournier have re-opened their lovely and inviting home on the Bay-Waveland beach front, after spending a part of the winter in New Orleans, visiting their daughter and son. Mrs. Fournier, president King's Daughters, Bay St. Louis, and former State president, devotes the major part of her time to the local hospital which has been by her enthusiastic and capable service a contributing factor to its success.

Mrs. C. J. Chadwick, son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fuchel, and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. N. Dick, formed a delightful party Thursday when they left Bay St. Louis for Hendersonville, North Carolina, where Mrs. Chadwick and her son and daughter-in-law will spend the entire summer and early fall. Mr. and Mrs. Dick will spend two weeks in vacation rest and enjoyment. They will be registered at the Ames Hotel.

"SEVENTH HEAVEN" IS OFFERING AT GULF THEATER, SUN.-MON.

Darryl Zanuck Presents Simone Simon and James Stewart—Greatest of Stories.

Adapted from the famous stage play by Austin Strong, "Seventh Heaven," which is to be at the Gulf Theater Sunday and Monday of this week, brings together the long awaited team of Simone Simon and James Stewart in one of the greatest stories of love and faith ever brought to the screen.

Those who saw the original production with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell will surely want to see this new love team rising toward new laurels in a show so great, so beautiful, that it has long ceased to be just a picture, but an immortal tribute.

Simone Simon, a young and entertaining French star who has won your heart in her several performances, is seen in the leading role as Diana, a young girl to whom faith has dealt a cruel blow.

James Stewart is an ambitious

ily dinner with one guest, a pal of the honoree. This unusually intelligent young man and student is quite an aviation enthusiast to the extent he builds planes that are fitted with tiny motors and actually fly. A high spot of the dinner was piece de resistance, a cake fashioned in the shape of a plane, in color and quite a get-up to the extent it was photographed before cutting. Peter is a collegian at St. Stanislaus, a musician and scholar and has quite a bright future.

lad of our own country who has at last achieved the role of his career as Chico, a scavenger who denies God and love and the pursuit of happiness.

Brought together by fate, their love story is one which rises to the sublime heights of romance. "Seventh Heaven" is a picture mere words cannot describe, so great is emotional stress.

Jane Hersholt who won wide acclaim and admiration for his stirring performance in "The Country Doctor," returns in another great role as Father Chevilion, while Gregor Rattoff, Hollywood's three-in-one man writer, director and actor, tops all past shows with his ideal part as Boul.

Directed by Henry King, the story is one of beauty, romance and sin—cece faithfulness. To Darryl Zanuck should go due recognition for the splendid way in which he has handled the story, his excellent selection of the stars and his general talent.

"Seventh Heaven" is a picture no one will want to miss, for it is indisputably 20th Century-Fox's greatest hit, and its gift to you. Gradually weaving a spell of enchantment of the human side of life; we are brought to realize that such true happiness is ours if we only stop to look for it.

The Gulf Theater offers you this glorious treat Sunday and Monday.

He is preparing to leave on a trip to North Mississippi to spend several weeks in native haunts, visiting relatives and friends and acquaintances of other days. Major McDonald values friendship highly and it is a recurrent pleasure whenever he travels back to the land of boyhood and younger manhood days.

—Mothers' Day is near. So do not forget to send, on that day, a card to your own mother, your mother-in-law, your friends' mother or any mother you know. And Miss Josie Welch has a beautiful line of Daisies personally selected Mothers' Day cards. See them while they are fresh and make your choice.

MANY ATTEND LAST RITES FOR SHIRLEY BUEHLER SUNDAY

Ten-Year-Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. F. Buehler Succumbs to Long Illness.

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Buehler at whose home 415 Esterbrook street the angel of death cast deep shadows.

Their daughter, Shirley Marie, native of Bay St. Louis, aged 10 years, passed away at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans Friday morning at 11:45 o'clock, following an illness that extended over a period of many months.

The body was conveyed to Bay St. Louis and a funeral ceremony held from the late home and church of Our Lady of the Gulf Sunday afternoon, the Rev. Patrick Moran conducting the last rites of the Catholic church; interment at St. Mary Cemetery. The newly-made mound within the hallowed precincts of St. Mary's was marked with a mass of spring flowers, lovely in profusion and color. Notable was a casket spray of white lilies.

In addition to her parents, the deceased is survived by two sisters and a brother, Martha, Ida May and Warren.

She was a lovely and likable child, a pupil of St. Joseph Academy, she was beloved by her class mates and all others who knew her. She was cheerful during her trying illness and the sweetness of her manner and christian fortitude were inspirational.

Funeral was largely attended, an outward manifestation of the esteem of the departed one and a mark of sympathy to the bereaved ones. Pall bearers were Buster Heitzman, Leo Choina, James Schwall, Bert Estapu, Otto Buehler, Jr., Theodore Thomas.

The Echo joins the community in expressions of deepest sympathy. It was the Master who said suffer little children to come unto Me.

—Correspondents for out-of-town newspapers seem to make it a practice of "lifting" news from The Echo. An afternoon paper last Saturday carried much of The Echo's Bay St. Louis news that was exclusive. One story we purposely carried an error in figures while another was purposely distorted. It was a trap and caught the news pirate. It is always safe to get one's own news and be sure of its authenticity and correctness. Even in the newspaper game there is "honor among thieves," but in this instance there seems to be an exception. It is well to remember there are ethics in every profession.

Finishing Touch To New Jail Is Sodding Soil For New Lawn

The last vestige of debris accumulating over a long period of substantial building is removed from the courthouse yard surrounding the new county jail structure and the scene now shows to definite advantage. Cement driveway, connecting Court and Cue street and fronting the jail entrance is finished, the soil has been sodded and soon a lawn of greenest hue will, carpet-like, finish the picture. WPA monies have been spent to advantage here, in a permanent manner and to serve useful purpose, this serving to double advantage. The Board of Supervisors and other officials of the county are to be complimented on their intelligent and constructive work.

Doctor—Did you say there was something wrong with this hot water bottle?

BLUE EYES

Blue Eyes, why do you keep smiling? When riding always they are beguiling; Do you know you were meant for me? Love in your eyes is there to see.

When your eyes first met mine Then instantly I knew That your eyes of purest blue To me always would be true.

Although I gave you my heart, I had a feeling from the start; I knew it would not be long Before we would have to part. MRS. C. J. CHADWICK

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

THE housekeeper who is thrifty as well as a good cook knows the art of making good sauces. The most indispensable of all sauces is the white sauce, it appears throughout the menu; in soups, entrees, sauces with vegetables and sometimes as the base for desserts. Any leftovers combined with the appropriate sauce may appear to the family as a new and interesting dish.
